LATEST LISTINGS AND SKETCH ADDITIONS

The latest listings and sketch additions for each edition necessarily appear initially in this special last-to-press section whenever the appropriate pages in the body of the compilation have been plated for the presses. Changes of importance in connection with the sketches appearing in the volume are noted, below, following the names of the biographees involved, when coming to the attention of the Editors too late for insertion in sketches. Because an edition of a book the size of WHO'S WHO must necessarily be printed in a number of sections (forms)—and all these sections completed before binding can begin—provisions cannot otherwise be made for such data.

Biographees considered to be sufficiently subject to general reference interest to justify listing before data are either received from them or assembled by the Editors independently, are included—by at least titles, names and addresses—in either the body of the compilation or the Latest Listings Section. All such biographees are also immediately listed in the Geographical Index of the volume of WHO'S WHO first issuing following their selection.

Deaths reported since publication of the preceding volume, and not heretofore recorded, are listed in the Necrology which is published separately, together with the Geographical Index—see page 1.

The sketches of all biographees selected for initial inclusion in this volume of WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA, and known to be no longer living, are published in it, and as well those of other biographees known to be deceased if revisions before death, other factors considered by the Editors to be of reference importance, or printing limitations making deletions impracticable, are involved. Such sketches carry a suitable notation whenever that addition is mechanically possible, and are listed in the Necrology referred to above. The purpose of this practice is, primarily, to place in reference service the latest data received by the Editors from every selected biographee, and, secondarily, to make them available to those closely interested as part of the published compilation in which the deceased had been chosen for inclusion. The last-published sketches of deceased biographees invariably appear (after being submitted for final verification) in WHO WAS WHO; and, in instances judged by the Editors to involve appropriate reference factors, currently in the MONTHLY SUPPLEMENT.

Not infrequently mechanical factors enforcing rigid space limitations within particular portions of an edition, prohibit publishing in a biennial printing, all data concerning biographees whose writings, works of art, professional appearances, or other noteworthy specific achievements, are extensive. In such instances, the most recent additions are published currently, and the last-published preceding record referred to by the symbol ✱—standing alone, ☆ refers to Volume 26; followed by the inferior numeral $_{(27)}$ or $_{(28)}$ it refers to Volume 27 or Volume 28.

When new data do not indicate to the Editors that doing so will materially affect the of-the-moment reference serviceability of the Edition, sketches may be referred to as last published by means of the symbol ⊙, and either "26", "27" or "28", and not currently reprinted.
